KSLU is an educational non-commercial, non-profit radio station that transmits via Internet and is operated solely by students of St. Lawrence University. KSLU exists to provide an educational experience for the students of St. Lawrence University through the operation and management of a radio station. It shall operate in the public interest, convenience, and necessity providing programming of an entertaining, informative, and educational nature.

Since the winter of 2007, KSLU has made vast improvements to its infrastructure. The spring of 2007 marked the passing of a strong leadership by key seniors, who played a crucial role in KSLU's revitalization.
